International Exhibition of Videodance and Videoart

Muestra Movimiento Audiovisual opens its ninth International Call for Videoart and Videodance through the online festival management platform Filmfreeway. In this way, audiovisual works by artists from different latitudes are selected; both emerging and with experience, in order to be disseminated to the public within cultural spaces of the city of Guadalajara and its surroundings.

Short-format videographic pieces will be selected, ensuring that the exhibition incorporates pieces of different styles and themes, so that the resulting collections can be aimed at different types of audiences. Participants may apply to one or more of the following categories:

National-Mexico

Video creations made in Mexico and/or directed by Mexicans may participate in this category.

Latin America and Africa

Video creations made in Latin America and Africa may participate in this category.

Rest of the world

Video creations directed by foreigners from outside Latin America and Africa, or that have been made outside such geographical areas, may participate in this category.

Conversations with the environment

Video creations that address environmental themes or investigate the body-nature relationship may participate in this category. This special collection will be exhibited as part of the program of the Bosque la Primavera Festival in collaboration with Muestra Movimiento Audiovisual and Proyecto al Margen.
